

platFORM

The public art programs from Tempe, Scottsdale, Chandler, and Surprise have joined forces in platFORM, an initiative to offer opportunities for student artists to create sculptures for temporary placement in public places. platFORM aims to provide experiences and education to students, from the application process through installation, in hopes of preparing these emerging artists for future public art opportunities and to gain wider exposure for their artwork.

Students currently enrolled in an arts program at any university, community, or private college within the state of Arizona are eligible to apply. The Request for Proposals is typically released during the spring semester, with artworks installed in September for the duration of one year. www.platform-az.org

Tempe's platFORM sculptures are currently located on the grounds of Hayden Flour Mill, at the north-east corner of Mill Avenue and Rio Salado Parkway.

Cycle 3

Lisa Bernal Brethour

Rain Song, 2015
Hayden Flour Mill

Photo: Sean Deckert

more

David Higley, Ashley Bennardo, & Jephyr Curtis

Natural Monolith, 2015
Bike Corral at Tempe Beach Park

Photo: Sean Deckert

more

Cycle 2

Dale Andress

Torque, 2014
Hayden Flour Mill

Photo: Peter Bugg

more

Shelby Larson

Radial Joy, 2014
Hayden Flour Mill

Photo: Peter Bugg

more

Cycle 1

Connor Coffman

Industrial Desert, 2013-2014
Hayden Flour Mill

Photo: Sean Deckert

more

Liz Graves & Rowdy Durham

Los Cactus Bailarines, 2013-2014
Hayden Flour Mill

Photo: Sean Deckert

more