Former Mesa resident Tiffany England, who now lives in Los Angeles, was one of 12 illustrators honored for their work in the Ron Hubbard Illustrators of the Future Contest at the 29th annual L. Ron Hubbard Achievement Awards.

THE CONTEST

The contest was initiated by L. Ron Hubbard in 1988 to help aspiring illustrators get a commercial break. The 276 past winners have produced more than 4,500 illustrations, 356 comic books, graced 594 books and albums with their art and visually contributed to 36 TV shows and 46 major movies.

ABOUT

A graduate of Mesa Community College, England received her bachelor's degree in illustration from the Laguna College of Art & Design in Laguna Beach, Calif. She said in a release, "I feel living in Arizona has shaped my visual language."

SEE

You can see her illustration in the best-selling Science Fiction anthology series "L. Ron Hubbard Presents Writers of the Future Volume XXIX," now available at Amazon.com and BN.com and soon to be available in print.

QUOTE

"This affirms that all the hard work is paying off but it has also shown me how much further I can still go," England said. "This contest offers a great opportunity for aspiring illustrators to get advice and guidance from working professionals, to get their career up and running."
