Jaguar Club of Central Arizona internships offered to MCC automotive performance students

Mar 24th, 2016 · by Richard Dyer · 0 Comments

Bryce Bond, Mesa Community College, automotive performance faculty member, and Robert Bronstein, president of the Jaguar Club of Central Arizona (member of the Jaguar Clubs of North America), announced their collaboration in extending several internships to MCC automotive performance students beginning in April, according to a press release.

Both entities recognize the need for more highly qualified students to enter automotive careers. MCC automotive performance students desiring to expand knowledge in the historical and luxury car fields are encouraged to apply. The internship will provide shadowing of five Valley garage owners and their mechanics, according to the release.

Experiences will include encounters with historic early 20th Century driving and race car collections and culminate with experiences at the Jaguar/Land Rover North Scottsdale dealership, according to the release.

In kicking off the partnership, MCC automotive performance students are volunteering at the JCCA's six-day March 31-April 6 Jagstravaganza International Jaguar Festival held at the Scottsdale Plaza Resort, 7200 N. Scottsdale Road, according to the release.

"MCC students will participate in a Jaguar Concours d' Elegance (auto show), seminars, a road rally and a slalom. The Concours is free, open to the public and is a great family event," Mr. Bronstein said.
