

Lifelong Learning ramps up winter-spring program

Mesa Community College's New Frontiers for Lifelong Learning program has scheduled an open house for people who want to learn more about its extensive educational and social programs.

—The Republic | azcentral.com

THE PROGRAM

Courses cover a broad range of subjects and activities, ranging from meteorites and the experiences of Americans in France in 1917 and 1918 to the Hopi and Asian cultures to how to play bridge and book discussions. Social events include concerts, hikes, board games and even miniature golf. Members get student IDs that give them discounts on campus and in the community. There also are volunteer opportunities for members.

CLASSES

Classes meet on the MCC campuses at Southern Avenue and Dobson Road, McKellips and Power roads, and 165 N. Centennial Way. Activities also are held at the Mesa Active Adult Center at 247 N. Macdonald, Red Mountain Active Adult Center at 7550 E. Adobe Road and other locations in Mesa. The next open house will be 1-3 p.m. Jan. 18 at the downtown Mesa campus, 145 N. Centennial Way on the fourth floor. Cost for the program is $70 per year or $50 per semester, which entitles members to as many classes as they want.

INFORMATION

» newfrontiers.mesacc.edu, or e-mail communications@newfrontiersaz.org or NFLL, in care of Mesa Community College, 165 N. Centennial Way Suite 208, Mesa, AZ 85201.