

Mesa Community College to screen education film 'Race to Nowhere'

Tweet 3

Like 0

Posted: Monday, October 15, 2012 1:15 am

TRIBUNE |

Mesa Community College will host a screening of the 2009 education film “Race to Nowhere” and hold a community discussion 6 p.m. Tuesday. The event is free, but tickets are limited.

“Race to Nowhere” started as a parent movement, but has grown nationwide. It features the stories of children who, “have been pushed to the brink by over-scheduling, over-testing and the relentless pressure to achieve.”

The film has been screened in more than 5,000 cities and towns in more than 30 countries. It will be shown at the Paul Elsner Library at Mesa Community College. Seating is limited to 200. To reserve a seat, go to <http://www.racetonowhere.com/epostcard/6577>.

For more information, contact Tawn Hauptli by email at tawn.hauptli@mesacc.edu or phone at (480) 461-7912.

More about Mesa Community College

- IMAGE: Loretta Damon
- ARTICLE: Native American of the Year

More about Mesa Arizona

- ARTICLE: East Valley mayors join statewide education initiative
- ARTICLE: $75M in federal funding pledge Friday for Mesa light rail extension
- ARTICLE: Gilbert, Mesa, Tempe mayors join education group
- ARTICLE: Unemployment rate falls in Arizona and in Valley
- ARTICLE: Joy multiplied: Mesa doctor delivers 2 sets of quints in 3 weeks

More about Education

- ARTICLE: East Valley teachers honored as ‘ambassadors for excellence’
- ARTICLE: Mesa’s Carrington College students to offer free health checks
- ARTICLE: East Valley mayors join statewide education initiative
- ARTICLE: Gilbert’s Canyon Rim Elementary offers health classes to teachers

Tweet 3

Like 0