Nation's best programs at two, four year schools ranked for best overall value.

RENO, NEV. (PRWEB) NOVEMBER 10, 2016

The Best Veterinary Technician Schools in the nation are being featured by AccreditedSchoolsOnline.org, the Community for Accredited Online Schools 2016-2017 rankings. Comparing both online and on-campus programs at two- and four-year schools across the U.S., the online higher education resource provider ranked schools providing the best overall value for Veterinary Technician students. Colorado Mountain College, St. Petersburg College, Lincoln Memorial University, Becker College, Medaille College, San Juan College, Athens Technical College, Windward Community College, Chattanooga State Community College and Northshore Technical Community College were among the highest scorers.

"Job outlook projections show veterinary technician positions growing much faster than the national average through 2024," said Doug Jones, CEO and Founder of the Community for Accredited Online Schools. "Schools on these lists are not only providing quality veterinary technician programs, but are also making an extra effort to help students land a job after graduation."

Schools must meet specific baseline requirements to be considered for a spot on the Best Veterinary Technician Schools ranking. All institutions must hold regional accreditation and be registered as public or private not-for-profit entities. Schools are also required to provide career placement services to their students. Once a school's eligibility is determined, the Community for Accredited Online Schools scores and ranks each based on more than a dozen data points, including graduation rates, student teacher ratios and financial aid availability, to determine the overall Best Schools in the U.S.
