

National Theatre Live to MCC – Mesa Community College News

Posted on October 12, 2016 by Dawn Zimmer

MESA, Arizona — October 12, 2016 — Mesa Community College has partnered with The National Theatre in London to bring six of its “National Theatre Live” broadcasts to the MCC Theatre this fall.

“We are very excited to bring these world-class national productions to Mesa,” said Christopher Tubilewicz, venue manager for the MCC Theatre. “The MCC Theatre was propelled into the 21st century when it underwent renovations in 2012. The renovations and technology upgrades have made this partnership possible allowing MCC Theatre & Film Arts to bring these world class theatre experiences to our students and our community.”

The first NT Live screening will be “Frankenstein” (Oct. 28, 7:30 p.m.). Future screenings will include “A View from the Bridge” (Nov. 4, 7:30 p.m.), “The Audience” (Nov. 8, 7:30), “War Horse”...
