OF MICE AND MEN - Mesa Community College Theatre & Film Arts - April 21 - April 29, 2017

Written by John Steinbeck

Directed by James Rio.

Of Mice and Men examines the strong bond of a pair of itinerant field workers during the Great Depression who pursue the lofty and unattainable American Dream of settling down on their own ranch. The relationship between slight, but smart George Milton and his giant, but child-like companion, Lennie Small is tested to the breaking point when he develops an infatuation with the owner's daughter-in-law and ultimately leads to tragedy. This 1937 novella was adapted for both stage and screen by Steinbeck, appearing on the American Library Association's Most Challenged Books of the 21st Century while most frequently included in curriculum and revered as an American classic.
