

Rose society's auction to feature many varieties

A wide variety of roses will be on the block Feb. 9 when the Mesa-East Valley Rose Society holds its annual rose auction. Billed as the only rose auction in Arizona, it will raise money for the society and Mesa Community College's expansive rose garden.

ON SALE

The auction features various miniatures, minifloras, polyanthas, hybrid teas and shrub roses. The society said in a release that most of these roses are only available through mail-order sources and not offered by local nurseries. Fertilizers and other growing products will be on sale.

DETAILS

The auction is Feb. 9 at MCC's library on the main campus, West Southern Avenue and Dobson Road. Items can be viewed at noon; the auction begins at 1:30 p.m.
