

4 Ways to Find Non-English Speaking Job Opportunities

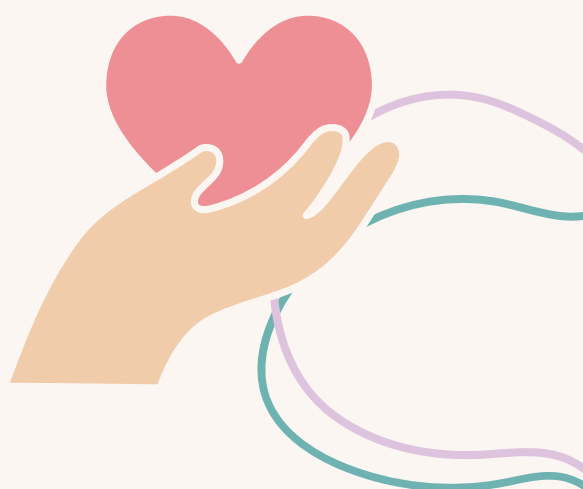

1. Job Search Platforms

- Google Search: Type keywords or phrases in desired language and type "Jobs" OR "Jobs near me". Toggle new job alerts if interested in being alerted for new positions
- Indeed: Type keywords like "Non-English" OR type desired language. Example "Spanish".
- Craigslist: Use with caution, look for any red flags
- Check Local Newspapers

2. Reach out to Non-Profit Organizations

There are a few non-profit organizations that help refugees or community members to search jobs.

- Chicano Por La Causa (Phoenix, AZ)
- Workforce Center at Mesa (not specific to Non-English speaking)
- IRC (Only for refugees- Glendale, AZ)
- Friendly House (Phoenix, AZ)

3. Networking

- Ask around local business that cater to populations that use desired language.
- Communicate with Community Centers and local churches. They often have job boards and connections
- Look within your friends and family. They might have a friend of a friend with job opportunities.

4. Improve Basic English Skills

Improving one's English can open up more job opportunities.

- ESL Classes: offered at community colleges, Arizona At Work, public schools, and other non-profit orgs for free or low-cost
- Online Resources: Duolingo, Memrise, Busuu, etc.

Industries that Value Multilingual Employees:

- Construction and Labor
- Agriculture
- Hospitality and Cleaning
- Manufacturing and Warehousing

Additional Resources:

https://www.linkedin.com/pulse/20-jobs-you-can-do-without-speaking-local-language-poliquin-ph-d-?utm_source=share&utm_medium=guest_desktop&utm_campaign=copy